Destination host unreachable

Our machine gets an immediate error back because it knows a path or route is missing.

Request timed out

Our machine or device sent a data packet to another destination, but no reply came back within the set time limit

Reply from some ip destination host unreachable

Our machine or a local router cannot find a valid network path or map the IP address to a physical hardware address using ARP

TTL expired

Our data packet passed through too many routers or got stuck in a network loop, so the router deleted it to stop it from wandering forever.
